Helping protect you and your family.

Quick glance: What’s in it for you?
Help ensure you are protecting one of your most valuable assets – your income.

Income protection is among the most important types of insurance – after all, where would you be without it? Your income is used to maintain a certain living standard and also to build wealth and provide for your retirement.

This affordable Disability Income Replacement Plan sponsored by Engineers Canada can provide you with a valuable monthly benefit to replace lost income if a serious illness or accident keeps you from making a living.

It’s easy to get covered:
1. Determine the amount of Income Replacement Coverage. (See page 7 for details.) Coverage ranges from $500 to $15,000 per month.
2. Choose when you want benefits to start. Benefits begin following the ‘elimination’ period, from as quickly as seven days up to 365 days. The longer the elimination period, the lower your premiums. If covered by Employment Insurance, we suggest that you choose an elimination period of 90 days or longer.
3. Apply securely online at manulife.ca/engineersDI.

Enhance your existing group disability plan.

If you’re covered under an employee group disability plan but it isn’t giving you the coverage you want, you can ‘top up’ your coverage by adding Disability Income Replacement Insurance equal to the difference between the benefit your current plan provides and additional amounts available based on your earnings.

How Disability Income Replacement benefits are paid
Six types d’invalidités sont couverts par le régime de remplacement du revenu en cas d’invalidité :

1. Total Disability
2. Residual Disability
3. Partial Disability
4. Presumptive Disability
5. Recurring Disability
6. Catastrophic Loss

1. Total Disability Benefit:
   Benefits are paid as long as you are Totally Disabled, and may continue for life if you are disabled due to an accident, or to age 70 if disability is due to an illness. Totally Disabled means you are unable to perform the regular and important duties of your occupation and are not engaged in any other gainful occupation. You must be under the continuous regular care and attendance of a physician.

2. Residual Disability Benefit:
   If you are Residually Disabled, a percentage of your benefit may be paid to age 70 (if disability is due to an accident or illness). Residually Disabled means you are able to return to your regular occupation in a limited capacity but have a continuous loss of earnings of at least 20%, or you cannot return to your regular occupation but are performing another gainful occupation with a continuous loss of earnings of at least 20%. You must be under the regular care and attendance of a physician. (Residual Disability must start before age 60.)

The Residual Disability Benefit is illustrated in the following example:

If Paul, age 60, was earning $6,000 a month before becoming disabled, and $3,600 since becoming disabled, he has lost 40% of his monthly earnings. However, since Paul had purchased Disability Income Replacement coverage of $3,000, and was approved for the benefit, he received a Residual Disability Benefit equal to 40% of that $3,000, or $1,200, each month.
3. Partial Disability Benefit:
If you are Partially Disabled following a Total Disability that starts on or after age 60 but before age 70, the plan pays 50% of your monthly benefit for up to six months. Partially Disabled means you are unable to perform one or more of the important duties of your regular occupation (or are unable to perform them for more than half the time usually required), or are unable to work more than 20 hours a week at another gainful occupation. You must be under the regular care and attendance of a physician.

4. Presumptive Disability:
Even if you are able to work, you will be considered Totally Disabled and receive Total Disability benefits if, due to an accident or illness (occurring while insured), you irrecoverably lose the entire use of: both hands; both feet; both one hand and one foot; sight in both eyes; hearing in both ears; or speech. Benefits will be paid for the benefit period for an illness whether your loss was due to an illness or accident.

5. Recurring Total Disability:
If you return to work but suffer a subsequent period of Total Disability resulting from the same illness or accident within six months, the second period of disability will be considered a continuation of the first. Benefits will resume and you will not have to satisfy another elimination period.

6. Catastrophic Loss:
You will receive 125% of your monthly disability benefit if your loss is considered Catastrophic. While experiencing a Catastrophic Loss you will be considered Totally Disabled. You must:

- Not be gainfully employed;
- Be under the regular care and attendance of a physician; and
- Satisfy the minimum criteria in one of four categories: Self-Care, Transfer and Mobility, Cognitive Ability, or Terminal Illness.

Note: If you become disabled, the monthly benefit you receive will be based on your pre-disability income. If your income decreases after you purchase coverage, your monthly benefit may also decrease. Pre-disabled income is the greater of the average monthly income during the last taxation year or the average of the previous 24 months.

Extra features of the Disability Income Replacement Planté

Included at no additional cost

1. Compassionate Care Benefit
Provides three times your Monthly Benefit Amount in one lump sum if a family member (your spouse or child) is injured, or diagnosed with a terminal illness, and has 12 months or less to live. It allows you to take time off from work to care for your sick loved one, without having to worry about lost wages. (Subject to certain limitations.)

2. Future Increase Option Benefit
On each option date under the Future Increase Option Benefit, you may be eligible to purchase up to a specified additional amount of disability insurance without providing proof of good health. To be eligible for increases under this option, you must be under age 55 and actively at work on a full-time basis. Some personal financial information will be required to substantiate the increase in coverage. Any increase in coverage will be subject to the same terms and conditions as the existing coverage. Upon reaching the 10th year of coverage under this benefit, you may renew coverage for this benefit by providing proof of good health, providing you are under age 55 and actively at work on a full-time basis. If you opt not to exercise this benefit at least once within any three-consecutive-year period, then the right to exercise the Future Increase Option Benefit will no longer be available to you.

3. Guaranteed Re-entry Benefit
If you cancel your insurance under this program after being insured for two consecutive years to join an employer-sponsored group program, you can rejoin this program later and reinstate your original coverage, without providing proof of good health, provided you reapply within 10 years of cancellation; are under age 55 at the time of reapplication; and apply within 90 days of withdrawal from the employer or spouse's employer-sponsored plans.
4. Guaranteed Benefit Reinstatement
Prior to age 65, if you suffer from a temporary reduction in income, this benefit allows you to reduce your monthly benefit to a minimum of $500. When your income increases again, you can reinstate the original monthly benefit amount without proof of good health.

5. Waiver of Premium
If your Total Disability continues for three consecutive months (or the elimination period, if longer), you may qualify to have this coverage continue free of charge while you are receiving monthly benefit payments.

6. Coverage Between Jobs
If you become disabled within 12 months following your last employment, your benefit will be calculated using your average monthly earnings during your most recent 12 months of employment.

7. Automatic Cost of Living Adjustments
This benefit offsets the effects of inflation while you are disabled. After 12 consecutive months of benefits paid, your monthly benefits will be adjusted according to the annual percentage change in the Consumer Price Index, up to 5%. The increases will be compounded annually and continue until age 70 for disability caused by sickness.

8. Cost of Living Buy-Back Option
After a period of disability and within 30 days of returning to work, you have the option to increase the monthly benefit amount to equal the sum of the basic monthly benefit plus any cost of living adjustment benefit you received while disabled.

The Engineers Canada-sponsored Business Overhead Expense Plan pays your eligible business expenses to help keep things going while you’re disabled and unable to do so yourself.

As a self-employed professional, you are normally responsible for the fixed expenses of running your business, and these office expenses will usually continue even when you are unable to work. The Business Overhead Expense Plan covers business expenses that continue when your business revenue slows or stops because you are disabled due to illness or accident.

You may purchase coverage equal to your average fixed monthly expenses in the last six months, less any business expense or office overhead coverage already in force. Coverage is available from $500 to $8,000 in monthly benefits, in units of $100.

How expenses are paid under the Business Overhead Expense Plan

Eligible expenses are normal expenses in the operation of your business, such as rent or mortgage interest, utilities including hydro, heat and water, depreciation, employee salaries, and so on. If the business is a partnership or operates under a cost-sharing agreement, only your share of the expenses is considered eligible. The Plan does not cover self-remuneration, the cost of goods, wares or merchandise of any nature, or the cost of implements of your occupation or profession.

Benefit payments are limited to actual expenses incurred. Some limitations and exclusions apply.

Benefit payments begin following the elimination period you choose at the time of application (either 14 days or 30 days). The longer the elimination period, the lower your premiums.

Benefit payments end when you recover, when you reach your benefit maximum (which is 12 times your monthly benefit), when payments have continued for three years, or when you reach age 70 (whichever occurs first).

For example, if you had purchased $5,000 of monthly benefit and you become Totally Disabled, the Plan would reimburse you for $5,000 of incurred expenses for 12 months, at which time you would have reached the benefit maximum (12 times your $5,000 monthly benefit, or $60,000).

But if you had purchased $5,000 of monthly benefit and your incurred expenses taper off (e.g., $5,000 in the first six months, $2,500 for the next six months and $1,250 thereafter), you could continue to receive benefits until you reach your $60,000 benefit maximum (24 months in this case).

Extra features of the Business Overhead Expense Plan

Included at no additional cost

1. Waiver of Premium

   If your Total Disability continues for three consecutive months, you may qualify to have this coverage continue free of charge while you are receiving monthly benefit payments, and receive a refund of the premiums paid during the elimination period.

2. Recurrence of Disability

   If you return to work but suffer a subsequent period of Total Disability resulting from the same illness or accident within three months, the second period of disability will be considered a continuation of the first. Benefits will resume and you will not have to satisfy another elimination period.

3. Extended Monthly Benefit

   If you are disabled prior to age 65, this benefit will reimburse you up to 40% of the monthly benefit for the regular monthly payments due under a business lease, rental agreement, installment purchase agreement or similar contract. For as long as you remain disabled, benefits are either payable until age 65 or for a maximum period of 60 months, whichever is less.

4. Death Benefit

   If you die prior to age 70 while receiving monthly disability benefit payments, an amount equal to three times your monthly benefit will be paid to your designated beneficiary or estate.
